D Magazine introduces Reading Room, a book club sponsored by Legacy Books.

Each quarter, one of the editors of D Magazine will choose a book to read and blog about on dmagazine.com. Club members will then be able to post their questions and comments on the selected title offering a variety of perspectives and opinions. At the end of each quarter, Legacy Books will host a cocktail hour where club members are invited to meet, mingle, and chat about the selected title.

The first Reading Room discussion, led by D Magazine Partners' President Christine Allison, will feature the fictional novel Wonderful World by Javier Calvo. One of many great novels released within the past two years that has been translated from its original Spanish version, this novel borders on gothic mysticism. However, it also contains a very modern premise. While one man seeks to impress his deceased father by becoming an internationally renowned criminal master mind; a seventh grade girl/self proclaimed European expert on Stephen King, plots a devious revenge upon her class mates. As the pot boils within the lives of the two, things begin to spiral downward into Barcelona's dark underworld. read more...
